

IS THIS HOW YOU FEEL?

BY THE EDITOR

Can't sleep. Can't stop thinking about the game.
Can't stop imagining what a great week this would have been in Wales. Can't stop mentally replaying the missed kicks in the hope this time they'll clear the posts. Can't stop wishing there had been a different referee. Can't stop thinking he should have issued a yellow card, not a red one. Can't stop questioning why he took such a short time to make such a big call.
Can't stop feeling his decision showed little empathy for the players, the occasion and the game. Can't stop wanting to ask the ref 'Why?' Can't stop feeling sad, proud and angry. Can't watch any replays any more. Can't stop being sure we'd have beaten France by a street without the sending off. Can't stop concluding the tournament has been devalued.
Can't stop believing we might have won the World Cup. Can't stop believing in this truly magnificent team. Warren Gatland's Wales – you've set the nation and the world alight. Thank you. Don't stop now.
